

I live in the Wash DC area, which has better than average traffic and weather than most areas in the country. That said, I feel the local coverage is still not of the quality that XM provides. Often I need instantaneous traffic to assist me in making alternate route decisions. XM traffic and weather is far superior to what is offered on traditional radio. One additional note, I am willing to pay for it!